Q11) Which of the following best fits the blank in the passage?

A.Complex

B.Toxic

C.Dangerous

D.Safe

Answer : Option C

Explanation: To fill the blank, we can use signpost technique. The signpost we have is, ILL-ADVISED & the word AND. The word ill-advised relates to a something that can cause damage. And options complex, toxic and safe are not related to this blank, however these options do not mean something that can cause damage or ill. So, the only word that fits in the blank is dangerous.

Read the passage given below and answer the questions that follow.
Read the passage and answer the questions that follow.

Sticky, gooey, oftentimes orange, and homemade within the ears - earwax is considered a gross nuisance that people tend to frequently remove and clean from the body. Whether it's by cotton swab, an ill-advised and__method, or by an otolaryngologist, people go to great lengths for unobstructed ear canals—but is removing earwax a good idea? Why does our body produce earwax in the first place if we just remove it in the end?

Earwax, also known by the formal name cerumen, is made from a mixture of long-chain fatty acids, alcohols, cholesterol, and the chemical compound squalene. It's secreted by glands in the outer ear canal in order to block dust, bacteria, insects, and other outside agents from infiltrating the ear canal and damaging the skin in the outer ear and the sensitive inner ear. While it's incredibly beneficial to the health of the ear, overproduction can cause earwax impaction, blocking sound waves from reaching the eardrum. Use of cotton swabs to clean excessive earwax can lead to further problems, pushing the wax farther into the inner ear canal rather than drawing it out. This has the potential to cause permanent damage to the eardrum and hearing abilities.

Q12) State whether the following statement is true or false.

The author prefers that earwax be cleaned with cotton swabs instead of it remaining there and blocking sound.

A.True

B.False

C.Cannot be determined

Answer : Option B

Explanation: In the last four lines the author clearly mentioned, "Even the use of cotton swab to clean earwax can lead to further problems". So, definitely the author is not preferring the earwax to be cleaned with cotton swab also. So, the statement is false.

Q13) Find out which underlined part of the sentence below has an error and mark the option accordingly.

I am guilty of not knowing you have come to me to seek help for the next issue of your magazine.

A.Your magazine

B.For the next issue

C.Not knowing

D.Have come to me

Answer : Option C

Explanation: The sentence should be- I'm guilty of not knowing that you have come to meet me to seek help for the next issue of your magazine.

Q14) Fill in the blank with the most suitable option.

The volunteers gave__food packets to the earthquake victims.

A.Over

B.In

C.None of the mentioned options

D.Out

Answer : Option C

Explanation: Gave over means stopped or ceased.
Gave in means surrendered.
Give out means. Published or announced.
So, none of the given options will fit in the blank. So options is answer.

Q15) Mark the option which is closest to the opposite in meaning of the word given below.

CORDONED

A.Untrue

B.Fresh

C.Free

D.Able

Answer : Option C
Explanation: The meaning of the word cordoned means seal or shut or isolate. Since we need our opposite meaning. The only option that fits the answer is free.

Q16) Mark the option which is closest to the opposite in meaning of the word given below.

FALSIFY

A.Promote

B.Prove
C.Educate
D.Correct

Answer : Option B
Explanation: Falsify means to prove false or disprove, since opposite meaning is required, the correct option is prove.

Q17) Fill in the blank with the most suitable option.
Tom only__fruits on Thursdays.
A.Eat
B.Eaten
C.Eats
D.Eating

Answer : Option C
Explanation: Since the subject is singular, the verb must be singular. The answer is option C.

Q18) Given below are sentences which when arranged logically from a coherent passage. Choose the option which gives the correct sequence.

1.Celebrations are observed the world over, but particularly in India, by throwing colour at one another.
2.Holi celebrates the arrival of spring and summer, as the dull winter breaks into a glow of colour under clear skies.
3.For Indians, the festival is a crucial part of the year, and collecting flowers and making colours begins late in winter.
4.Perhaps because the crops sown in autumn ripen under the newly golden sun, and so anticipation of glad times becomes only natural
A. 3 2 4 1

B. 2 4 1 3
C. 2 3 4 1
D. 2 1 4 3

Answer : Option B

Explanation: Sentence #1 talks about how the festival is observed the world over and then begins talking about India.
Sentence #3 is a continuation, since it talks more about how Indians celebrate. Thus, sentence #1 starts from a global context and then moves to India, while sentence #3 talks in detail about Holi in India. The only answer option with the 1-3 link is option B.

Q19) Choose the best replacement for the underlined part of the sentence.

The constitution guarantees citizens the right for freedom of expression subject to some conditions for national well-being.
A.the right of freedom of expression
B.the right to freedom of expression
C.the right for freedom for expression
D.the right for freedom of expression

Answer : Option B

Explanation: The constitutional rights are – Rights to do but not Rights for.
So B is the correct option.

Q20) Choose the best replacement for the underlined part of the sentence.

He berates me and insists that I should pay attention to him.
A.insists that I have paid attention to him

B.insists that I should pay him my attention
C.insists that I should pay him attention
D.insists that I pay attention to him

Answer : Option D

Explanation: This question can be solved by understanding the use of Subjunctives. Subjunctive clauses refer to clauses we use when we want to say that somebody:
Wants something to happen
Anticipates something to happen
Imagines something happening
These are used as subordinate clauses with the main clause having verbs such as:
?advise, ask, command, demand, desire, insist, order, prefer, propose, recommend, request, suggest
?command, demand, order, proposal, recommendation, request, suggestion
?advisable, best, crucial, desirable, essential, imperative, important, necessary, unthinkable, urgent, vital
?adamant, anxious, determined, eager, keen

Spotting Errors Quiz Online Test

1. He is one of the most talented (a) / and creative person (b) / I have ever (c) / met in my life. (d)

Answer: (b) and creative person

Explanation: Use of the article 'the' before 'most talented' suggests that there is only one talented person, which is incorrect.

2. The school board (a) / has decided to postpone (b) / the exams until (c) / a new date is not announced. (d)

Answer: (d) is not announced

Explanation: Use of double negative ‘until a new date is not announced’ makes the sentence incorrect.

3. I have been waiting (a) / for the train since (b) / two hours but (c) / it has not arrived yet. (d)

Answer: (c) for two hours

Explanation: Use of the preposition ‘since’ is incorrect. The correct preposition should be ‘for’ in this case.

4. Neither (a) / of the two friends (b) / could complete task (c) / on their own. (d)

Answer: (d) on his own

Explanation: The correct pronoun to use here is ‘his’ as it refers to ‘one friend’.

5. She would have won the race (a) / if she had not twisted (b) / her ankle in the middle (c) / of the track. (d)

Answer: No error

Explanation: The sentence is grammatically correct.

6. I am not sure (a) / who is the (b) / taller of (c) / the two sisters. (d)

Answer: No error

Explanation: The sentence is grammatically correct.

7. The meeting has been scheduled (a) / at 2 PM sharp (b) / and all attendees are (c) / requested to be present on time. (d)

Answer: No error

Explanation: The sentence is grammatically correct.

8. He is so much (a) / tired that he (b) / has to take (c) / a nap every day. (d)

Answer: No error

Explanation: The sentence is grammatically correct.

9. The cake is (a) / smelling so (b) / delicious that (c) / I cannot resist eating it. (d)

Answer: (b) smells so

Explanation: The verb 'smell' should be in the present tense as it describes the current state of the cake.

10. They were (a) / surprised to hear (b) / that the restaurant (c) / had already closed. (d)

Answer: No error

Explanation: The sentence is grammatically correct.

11. I cannot believe (a) / he is going to (b) / attend the party (c) / without his wife. (d)

Answer: No error

Explanation: The sentence is grammatically correct.

12. The teacher asked the students (a) / to complete the assignment (b) / by tomorrow and (c) / submit it to the principal. (d)

Answer: (d) submit it to the teacher

Explanation: The assignment should be submitted to the teacher, not the principal.

13. The company's CEO (a) / announced that they (b) / will be expanding (c) / to a new location soon. (d)

Answer: No error

Explanation: The sentence is grammatically correct.

14. Despite of his injury, he managed to complete the race.

A) Despite of
B) his
C) to complete
D) No error

Answer: A) Despite of

Explanation: The correct phrase is ‘despite his injury’ instead of ‘despite of his injury.’

15. The professor gave us many advices for the upcoming exam.

A) advices
B) us
C) for
D) No error

Answer: A) advices

Explanation: The noun ‘advice’ is an uncountable noun, so it should be used without the plural ‘s.’ Therefore, it should be ‘The professor gave us much advice for the upcoming exam.’